

Web for FOSS workshop

Aim:

Create a platform that connects contributors to the foss projects.

The website will help:

- new contributors to find a project to contribute to
- FOSS Projects to find a new contributors
- Hire a developer/designer/contributor for end-user
- Hire a developer for foss jobs
- Teach FOSS projects how to improve community involvement
-

Content:

- All foss projects you can contribute to
- Filters for projects by use and type
 - I.e. Music projects vs webdev projects
 - I.e. language agnostic vs python vs ruby etc
- Documentation
 - How to sign in
 - How to contribute design of software
 - How to contribute code
 - How to contribute marketing/design
 - How to Submit bug
 - How to ask for feature
 - How to hire a developer
 -
- Description of project
- Roles (rough)
 - Maybe with leads/organizers
- Listings of needs
- Roadmap
 - Focus on short term
- Language
- Types of contributions:
 - Code
 - Design
 - Copyright
 - Support/ help
 - Documentation
 - Marketing
 - Transactions
 - Moderating / Community management
 -

Examples

- <https://www.fossjobs.net/>
 - Front page is very clearly a list of jobs available
 - Filters on the side for region and position type
 - RSS
 - Craigslist like interface
- <https://github.com/topics>
 - Clear UX website
 - Great way to find projects but not necessarily to contribute to
- <https://github.com/t9tio/open-source-jobs>
 - Listing of jobs
 - Manually maintained
 - Not comprehensive
 - No way to submit easily
- <https://alternativeto.net/>
 - Great way to find projects but not necessarily to contribute to
- <https://www.upwork.com>
 - Job-focused
 - Commerce heavy
- <https://opensource.guide/>
 - Fantastic documentation
 - Creative commons
-